

You can choose to write a 500 word essay on any of the topics below, or write an opinion piece on a topic of your choice related to the lecture's required reading.

- 1) Can differences in human capital and physical capital accumulation explain the differences in growth rates between different countries?
- 2) Why do you think computer assisted learning programs have been more succesful in developing countries than developed ones? And do you think it is an appropriate intervention?
- 3) Discuss the roles of supply and demand with regards to education in developing countries.